A value-adding partnership

- Obtain tools and inspiration for new strategies and working processes to implement in your operations.
- Benchmark the partners within the center.
- Collaborate in joint research projects with academia, research institutes and partners in industry and authorities involved.
- Increase your knowledge through close contact with other experts within the life cycle field.
- Be highlighted as a frontrunner in sustainability. Your good examples, research or initiatives are communicated in the channels of Swedish Life Cycle Center.
- Obtain access to high quality decision support and a network of over 400 life cycle professionals.
- Get involved in strategic development through your seat on the center Board.
- Find new ways to manage long-term sustainability.
- Use the web forum for close contact with partners.
- Make a larger impact through joint efforts to influence national and international initiatives.

“Swedish Life Cycle Center sees beyond national and industrial borders. With its unique working groups, the center can affect the international development in the life cycle field.”

- Elin Eriksson, IVL Swedish Environmental Research Institute
